BLANCHE KUNZ

(A Letter from Carl Laemmle)

MR. EXHIBITOR, ARE YOU SOUND ASLEEP?

Mr. Licensed Exhibitor, doesn't it mean anything to you when you hear from week to week of new licensed exchanges being "bought up" by the trust's newest corporation called the "General Film Co.?"

Do you think for one blessed minute that the buying and freezing and squeezing of the Licensed exchanges is being done for your sweet benefit? What do you think will happen when the new octopus has bought and gobbled all the exchanges it wants? Do you think it will do any good if you wait until then to assert your independence? Don't you know that you can lick this new trust if you act in time? Don't you know that if enough of you turn independent, the trust will say to itself:—"Here, we are losing too much business. We'll have to go a little slower." If you want trust films—if that's what you are after—don't you see that the only way you can keep getting them at a decent price is to prevent the trust from establishing itself in a position to dictate to you? Do you want to give the trust the power to say to you:—"See here, you must raise your price of admission to ten cents instead of five." If you don't you will lose your license." And if you DO raise the price of admission, are you innocent enough to hope that you will make more profit? Don't you see that the only reason the trust wants to compel you to raise your price is so THAT IT CAN DOUBLE ITS RENTAL PRICE TO YOU? For several months I have kept you posted on every move the trust was making and was intending to make. I have NEVER given you a wrong tip. I am telling you now what I know to be the plan. Subsidized tools of the trust will try to laugh it off. They always have tried that game. If you let them do it, the laugh is on you in the end. Roll over! Wake up! Protect your investment. Turn independent NOW, while the turning is GOOD.

OLD SHOW INDIAN DIES IN OKLAHOMA

Bull Bear, Cheyenne, Formerly with Miller Brothers Is No More

Bliss, Okla., July 27.—The Miller Brothers, prominent in the control of Miller Brothers' 101 Ranch Wild West, have just been advised of the death of Bull Bear, one of the foremost show Indians in this country. Bull Bear died at Kingfisher, Okla., July 17 at the age of fifty-nine years. The deceased Indian was a Cheyenne and had been made a chief among his tribesmen because of his bravery in times of war. He was one of the contestants in the famous Pat Hennessey massacre at Beecher Island, Neb., and also took part in the Indian troubles at Navajo Mountains when forty Texas Rangers were annihilated while under the command of a state governor, who, it is said, to this day does not know what tribe of Indians was responsible for the killing.

Until recently Bull Bear had been in service with the Miller Brothers' Wild West and notification of his death was given the Oklahoma showmen by his brother, Thunder Bird, "for the reason that Bull Bear had often mentioned the good treatment he received from the Miller Brothers." One of the Indian's most recent activities with the show was his participation in the making of the big moving picture called "The Buffalo Hunt"; Bull Bear followed the chase and shot the bull with bow and arrow.

LAURA JEAN LIBBEY PLAYS FOR MORRIS.

New York, July 27.—Laura Jean Libbey, who has written about seventy novels and eighty plays of the heart and prob variety, has succumbed to the call of the footlights and will open at the American Music Hall here for William Morris next Monday. Mrs. Van Mater Stillwell, of Brooklyn (Laura Jean Libbey), will recite two original poems and a "love monologue" which she has written.

SHUBERTS ARE AFTER HOUSE IN DAYTON

Dayton, Ohio, July 25.—Memorial Hall in this city may be turned into a theater to house the Shubert attractions. A committee of the Chamber of Commerce is conferring with the county commissioners relative to the required architectural changes. As it stands at present the hall is a losing proposition.

OLD LYCEUM PASSES IN SALT LAKE CITY

Salt Lake City, Utah., July 25.—The old Lyceum theater, one of the landmarks of this city, is being torn down; on its site there is to be erected a modern vaudeville theater. The Lyceum had served as a theater for ten years, before that time had been used by a number of business institutions, and before that had been used as a schoolhouse.

SULLIVAN & CONSIDINE PLAYERS IN TROUPES

Bill Will be Taken Over the Country Intact Next Season—
Conference in Chicago

The shows will move from one Sullivan & Considine house to another next season intact, without the changing of a single act. This was determined at Chicago on Wednesday of this week when Chris O. Brown, New York manager of the firm, and H. C. Robertson and Paul Gourdon, of the Chicago office, held a conference.

The shows will open in Cincinnati and then move to Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Duluth, Winnipeg (Monday opening) and then west.

There are many advantages in the new arrangement. It makes the jumps better and saves at least $10 per performer on railroads; it makes the rail-roading easier, as special train service has been arranged for at the points it is needed; it makes it nicer for the artists inasmuch as it gives longer time contracts, and it is nicer for S. & C. as it saves a lot of work.

Where the houses are owned by individual managers and one wants an expensive show and another a cheap show such a plan is not practical but Sullivan & Considine have the leases of their houses and all of them play the same shows.

Work is in progress on the foundation of the new S. & C. theater in St. Paul.

HAGENBECK-WALLACE TO BE AT HAMMOND.

Most Notable Feature of Performance Said to Be Jim Rutherford's Clowns.

The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus will exhibit at Hammond next Monday. The show will arrive there on Sunday and the performers are planning an invasion on Chicago on that day. On Monday many members of the Chicago circus colony will return the visit.

The show has been in Indiana for more than two weeks and, considering that the farmers are in harvest, business has been very good. Last Sunday the show was at Valparaiso, Ind., and had many visitors. Among them was W. E. Haines, contracting agent of the Sells-Floto show; Frank Purcell, press agent of the Sells-Floto shows, and Mr. and Mrs. Z. A. Hendricks and E. E. Meredith, of Chicago.

The performance this year is well spoken of. The feature which stands out most is the work of the clowns. James H. Rutherford, the principal clown, is surrounded with as capable a bunch of jesters as has been gathered together in circus history, and an aeroplane stunt is one of the most notable travesties yet produced. Henry Stantz, who impersonates an old lady in the hippodrome ring and entertains before the performance begins, makes a tremendous hit.

Fred Wagner, who is with the show again this season, ran into Chicago last Monday from Valparaiso.

"UNMARRIED" GIRLIE SHOT BY HER HUSBAND

New York, July 27.—Mrs. Alfred H. Dalby, one of the "Girlie" chorus girls who are billed as "none of them twenty and none of them married," was shot by her husband Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Dalby had not been living together, but the husband resented it when his wife walked home from the theater with another man. Dalby put two bullets into his own head after he had shot his wife. Both have a chance to recover.

MARSHALL P. WILDER ILL AT ATLANTIC CITY.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 27.—Marshall P. Wilder is dangerously ill at his home here as the result of a collapse from overwork. Attending physicians who had been fearful as to his recovery now express the opinion that he has a chance to get well.

Buy Lubin Theaters in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., July 25.—The Knickerbocker Theater company has purchased the Lubin theaters at Nos. 404 and 410 East Baltimore street and will erect on the sites a large theater with a seating capacity of 1,800. Polite vaudeville, moving pictures, and other novelties will furnish the entertainment. The new theater will be one of the largest of the kind south of New York City.

SELLS-FLOTO TURN 3,000 AWAY AT OMAHA

Engagement in Nebraska City Monday Another Tribute to Independents

Omaha, July 25.—The great Sells-Floto Shows came, we saw, and they conquered. From the grand entry to the last mad dash down the home-stretch by the rumbling, careening chariots at the close of the performance, the 12,000 people inside the "big top" in the afternoon were perfectly satisfied that they had seen one of the best tented arenic shows before the public.

The Sells Floto people are remarkable economists in the matter of time, making each minute of the two hours and more divulge its quota of refined circus entertainment. The courage of a great show like the Sells-Floto traveling the country at the small admission of twenty-five cents aroused the admiration of a long-abused circus public and the latter flocked out to see if it were really true that the circus is classed with the largest in the land. The continuous applause that greeted the various acts showed plainly that the folks realized that at last a great circus had fairly "cut the price in two, but left the fine performance whole."

But the performance. We will not be so foolish as to say that it was the best thing we ever saw in a circus tent, but considering the price of the Sells-Floto shows and the price charged by other big moguls, we can truthfully say that the Sells-Floto aggregation gives the public more nearly their money's worth. It is no wonder the Sells-Floto management has succeeded in "showing the great American public," having a corps of lieutenants who know the truth of the assertion the public wants to be coddled and made much of and treated as human beings, and not as a drove of animals, each with a half dollar in his or her hand.—Smyth.

Omaha, Neb., July 25.—The Sells-Floto Shows turned them away in droves at night and packed them to the ring bank in the afternoon here today. It is the biggest thing at the "split" ever seen in this city and has established itself so strongly that when they come again the same great crowds will be present to bid them welcome. It was the third big show into Omaha this year and the Forepaugh & Sells Bros.' combination was heavily billed for September 19. All of this seemed to have no effect whatever on the attendance. It is no exaggeration to state that fully 3,000 people were turned away at the night show. A heavy rain came up about ten o'clock just as the performance was over.

H. H. Tammen and Otto Floto were on to visit the show here and both are as enthusiastic as ever over the success of the "big thing." Plans are now being put through to give the people a three-ring and two-stage circus for twenty-five cents next season. There will be a six-pole top and many new features will be added. Mr. Tammen states that the menagerie will be doubled and will include some of the rarest animals that money can buy.

All the principal railroad officials, including General Manager Mohler of the Union Pacific, and Mr. Spend of the Burlington, took in the performance.—C. L. H.

CHICAGO A-HUMMIN' FOR NEXT SEASON

New Productions Being Made, Companies Being Organized and Shows Rehearsing—On the Windy City Rialto

BY WILL REED DUNROY.

THERE are all sorts of activities apparent in Chicago just at present, and the coming season promises to be a very busy one. What with new productions in the making, new shows being rehearsed, and new companies being organized, the city is humming with life and things theatrical are looking up. One of the latest announcements is that a second company will be sent out on the road to play "Madame Sherry" in the one-night stand districts. It is said that Hamilton Coleman will have the role that is being played by Ralph Herz in the Chicago production and Amelia Stone is to sing and play the Lina Abarbanel role. It is probable that this new company will be whipped into shape right here in Chicago, and may be seen at the Colonial for one week before it starts out to get the whole country humming and whistling "Every Little Movement."

It is interesting to note what a New Yorker said the other day in regard to this same French vaudeville, as George W. Lederer delights to call his show. He said: "I believe the show will get the worst of it when it goes to New York. It seems to me that Lina Abarbanel is miscast, that Herz doesn't have much to do, and that Frances Demarest has the best of the deal all the way through. She introduces the big song hit, and gets away with the most of the honors."

It may be that New York will not like the attraction, but there is one thing certain, and that is that the Hochsna music will titillate even those blase New Yorkers a little bit, anyway.

Sarah Truax, who is well known in Chicago, and who was formerly in stock at the Bush Temple theater, will return to the stage for a week and play a role in "Lady Windermere's Fan" at the Grand opera house in St. Paul, beginning August 27. Miss Truax retired from the stage a year or so ago when she was married to Charles S. Albert, a prominent attorney of Minneapolis.

Isabelle Randolph, a dainty actress who has done some very good work in stock companies in and around Chicago, will join the cast of "My Cinderella Girl" at the Whitney opera house soon, while Marguerite Snow prepares to get up in the lines of George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly."

There are all sorts of rumors of companies being organized to pick up some easy money during the Knights Templar conclave. It is probable that nearly every house in town will be open during that week, and if some of the plans now in the making materialize, we will see several hastily brought together companies playing for the delectation of the host of visitors in the city during the gala week.

The theatrical season will be formally opened next Monday night when "The Midnight Sons" comes to the Lyric. Richard Carle will further start things going on Thursday night when he will reveal his new piece, "Jumping Jupiter," at the Cort, and after that things will hum right along, and the season will be upon us.

Otis Harlan, the rotund comedian, has invented a new drink. Just as though there were not enough good drinks to tempt us now.

It is now announced that "Baby Mine" will open the season at the Garrick. The farce will be moved over from the Princess to make room for some other show in the Clark street playhouse.

It begins to appear as though we were to have a taste of "Chantecler," and that right soon. Those who have studied the announcements for the American Music Hall have doubtless noticed that we are to have "A Barnyard Romeo," or something to that effect, and to a man up a tree it would seem that this is a sort of imitation of the famous Rostand play.

When "Her Son," a new play by Charles Bradley, opens at Powers' theater August 7, the following players will be seen: Miss Jennie Eustace, Miss Katherine Emmett, Sydney Booth, Miss Margaret Lawrence, William Riley Hatch, Miss Margherita Sargent, Hall McAllister and Arthur Behrens.

Bob Adams, our old friend Bob, who used to "entertain" down at Freddie Trains' some years ago, has gone and done it. He, with his vaudeville mate, Bob Allen, is the rage in London just now. It would appear that the two Bobs went across the Atlantic to see what they could do. They applied at several music halls for work, but they were unknown, and so were turned down. They did not grow discouraged right away, however, but kept pegging away. By and by they got an engagement for one week. They billed themselves "The Two Bobs," and went on. They were a scream from the start. They put over some good coon songs, and they awoke the next morning to find they had made a ten-strike. Right away an enterprising music hall manager got to them and signed them up for three months. They hit the nail on the head, and are on the way to make money. Bob Adams, by the way, is some composer, and has several popular songs to his credit.

W. K. Semple, who has been doing a good share of the press work for "The Fortune Hunter" since it arrived in Chicago, is scheduled to go to Boston to do the press work for the play when it opens there early in September. Mr. Semple is known as a high-brow agent, and he will have abundant opportunity to pull off much erudite stuff in the city of beans and brains.

And now it is announced that the People's Theater will open early in September with the Marie Nelson Stock Company. Robert Ranous will be the leading man and a good strong company is being gathered together for the season. It is said that Miss Nelson, Mr. Ranous and John Prince will back the venture.

Harold Attridge, the popular young playwright, author of "The Girl in the Kimono" and other successes, is at present the guest of Boyle Woolfolk, manager of "A Winning Miss" at Mr. Woolfolk's summer home in Danville, Ky. Messrs. Attridge and Woolfolk are collaborating on a new musical play which will soon be ready, and which will be offered to the public the coming season. And, by the way, Max Bloom has signed a three years' contract to appear, featured, in "A Winning Miss," the rehearsals of which will begin August 15. Mr. Bloom is at present in Pensacola, Fla., visiting friends.

There is a persistent rumor going the rounds that Charles W. Collins, late dramatic editor of the Inter Ocean, will blossom out as an author in a short while. It is said that he has a musical comedy up his sleeve, which will probably get its baptism of the footlights this season.

From far away, cool Macatawa Beach comes a breezy letter from Jack Harlow containing much news. Mr. Harlow announces that "The Dickey Bird" in which he and Mrs. Harlow were so successful in vaudeville has been expanded by Barry Gray into a three-act comedy for seven people, and it will probably be offered in Chicago some time this season. Mr. Harlow writes: "We are always glad to get THE SHOW WORLD, for it seems it gives us the real news of Chicago. We have been here a month and will stay until the first of September. My wife can really swim twenty-seven strokes—Kellerman outdone. Fishing isn't so good just now, but it was great for a while."

Wallace E. Smith, the bright young reporter on the Record-Herald, is said to have dropped into a cafe the other night, and as he festooned himself gracefully in a chair asked the waiter: "Do you serve stews here?"

"Not as a usual thing," replied the waiter, "but seeing as how it is you, we might make an exception."

Which reminds us that there are several cafes in town which have signs reading: "Lobsters Served Here."

Billy (single) Clifford's new vehicle, "The Girl, the Man and the Game," is described as a musical fantasy in two acts. It has a farce foundation, and a large number of bright musical interludes. The plot, in brief, deals with a traveling uncle who sees the picture of a young woman and falls desperately in love with it. He writes home to his nephew and asks the young man to look for the original. The young man does, and falls in love with her at once. There are all sorts of complications, and of course the young man wins the girl. There are many amusing situations, and those who have seen the manuscript are of the opinion that this piece will afford Mr. Clifford one of the best vehicles of his career. The following people will support Mr. Clifford in the entertainment: Adele Archer, Charles B. Hamlin, Hazel Swanson, Bert La Tourne, Jack Trainor, Rose Von Tilzer and others. A chorus of twenty girls, young and carefully selected as to beauty, will "back up" the numbers, which Will Rossiter will supply. The show opens at Peoria, August 15, then travels westward to the coast, where it will play for a number of weeks, Mr. Clifford being a favorite there owing to his connection with the Kolb & Dill productions in the past.

Ed H. Loeffler and Nell Vernon, who had been in stock in Pittsburg, arrived in Chicago last week to remain for some time.

Addison Burkhardt, who was formerly well known in Chicago, has returned to the scenes of his former joys and is once more one of the lively members of the crowds on the local Rialto. Mr. Burkhardt is the author of "The Sweetest Girl in Paris" which will soon be offered at the La Salle Theater. He is a young man of many good ideas, and those who know him are expecting something good when the new Askin offering is revealed.

Little Marie Scherzer, who stepped in without warning and sang the role of "Seibel" in "Faust" in San Francisco the other night and won a distinct triumph, has been in the chorus of several musical comedies. She toured to the Pacific Coast a year or so ago in "The Yankee Regent" when H. H. Frazee had that attraction on the road. She is a Chicago girl, with a good voice and a winsome personality, and everybody who knows her will be glad to hear that she has at last had her opportunity and has made good.

It is early in the season for announcement of a scarcity of chorus girls, but the complaint has been made. Harry Askins, who is getting ready to offer "The Sweetest Girl in Paris," was desirous of getting some very small girls, vulgarly called broilers. He sent his emissaries out, but small girls were not plentiful. Finally after much hunting some tiny specimens of femininity were obtained and Gus Sohke is putting them through their paces with a right good will.

Arthur Bowen, the long, lean and lanky cartoonist of the Chicago Daily Journal, is about to forsake his desk and hie him hence to vaudeville. He will first take a couple of weeks off and see the wilds of Michigan, and then he will go to St. Paul and open in the Orpheum there in his act billed as "Arthur Bowen, the Singing Cartoonist." Mr. Bowen has tried his act in Chicago with much success, and it will be recalled that on the occasion of the visit of President Taft to Chicago, Mr. Bowen sang to him and also drew some pictures for his delectation.

Theatrical people are arriving in Chicago from all directions and are making ready for the opening season. You can hear: "When I was with ——" of all sides, and everybody is swapping yarns with everybody else.

Charles Frohman can do more things on paper—than any other living producer.

PRIZE FOR NEWSPAPERS.

Some time prior to the Sells-Floto Shows' remarkable engagement in Kansas City, the Kansas City Star, in its news columns printed a cleverly written and interesting item relative to the creation of a new circus job. The Sells-Floto management regard the publication as the best notice—not a criticism of the show—that has ever been given them. They don't see how the notice could have been made more effective from the showman's point of view and, merely in effort to see if the notice can be improved upon, have offered $25 in cash to the newspaper which prints a better one. The offer is bona fide. Judges will be fair and impartial showmen. Marked copies of newspapers containing notices in the contest should be mailed to the Sells-Floto General Offices, Denver, Col. The notice printed in the Kansas City Star follows:

HERE'S A NEW CIRCUS JOB

Arthur Bennett, Not the Press Agent, but the "Truthful Herald."

The Sells-Floto show will be here one week from today and there will be an afternoon and night performance at the show grounds, Fifteenth street and Kansas avenue. Oh, yes, it will be here Tuesday, too, and the following day it will stroll over to Kansas City, Kas., and give exhibitions on that side of the line.

The above facts were detailed this morning by Arthur Bennett, who travels ahead of the Sells-Floto show. Mr. Bennett says he does not want to be known as a press agent, because of the deep-seated impression on the part of the public that press agents dally with fiction. Mr. Bennett rather is the Truthful Herald of the show, meandering along about one week in advance.

"Now, this is no press agent tale," Mr. Bennett said, moving his chair closer and getting out the affidavits. "Business this season has been something enormous. In the coast cities we turned them away, not by hundreds, but by thousands."

"Before or after the performance, Mr. Bennett?"

"No comedy, please."

"Very well; proceed with your big feature."

"Well, the big feature of the Sells-Floto show this season is the price of admission—twenty-five cents. We've cut the price in two."

"Sorry, but it's a strict rule not to mention the price of admission for any amusement attraction."

"I'm well aware of that," Mr. Bennett said, "but really this 25-cent gate is an—"

"No use, Mr. Bennett, it can't be done."

"All right, then, just let the reduced price of admission go and talk about the hundred features."

Harry Bulger and Vincent Bryan are busily engaged these hot summer days in making over "The Flirting Princess" to fit the Bulger style of comedy. It appears that the Singers will send this piece on the road this season with Bulger as the chief funmaker. Just now the chorus is being selected, and in a few days the piece will go in rehearsal. Bulger always insists that he be allowed to inject his own comedy in whatever role he essays, and it is to be hoped that he will write himself some funny lines.

Two other of Mort H. Singer's shows, "The Goddess of Liberty" and "Miss Nobody From Starland," will begin rehearsals within a fortnight.

Peyton Boswell's new sketch, "The Burglar and the Baron," which was burst out at the Bush Temple Theater last week, made a distinct hit. It received five curtain calls, which probably means that it will get the much coveted big time.

Joy looms up ahead in great big gobs. "The Midnight Sons" is headed straight on for the Lyric, and if reports are to be credited, the show is a snappy one, and one that ought to set Chicago by the ears. George W. Munroe, who does fat Irish women with great uncton, is in the cast and Maud Lambert is also in the list, to say nothing of a long string of other entertainers. The attraction opens August 1.

Channing Ellery certainly does put on Tschakowsky's overture "1812" with much eclat at Bismarck Gardens. The other night his band played this remarkable composition. The lights were all turned off in the garden, guns were fired, red light flared, and there was noise enough to arouse the seven sleepers. It hit the spot all right, and anyone who wants to be thoroughly awakened should take a run out some night and hear the overture.

There are no changes in the downtown theaters for the coming week. "Madame Sherry" will remain at the Colonial; "My Cinderella Girl" will continue at the Whitney; "The Girl in the Kimono" is at the Zeigfeld, and "The Fortune Hunter" is still on at the Olympic, while "Baby Mine" makes them all laugh down at the Princess.

Bert Glickhauf, one of the old newspaper men of the city, who has for some years been in the show business, was in town last week calling on friends. Mr. Glickhauf has had a varied experience since he left the newspaper business, and he has made good, too.

One report coming from New York is to the effect that Herbert C. Duce and Sam P. Gerson were seen together on Broadway.

Charles Elliott, who had a brief career as manager of the Bush Temple Theater last season, is managing a theater out in Portland, Ore., and seems to be making good. Elliott is a hustler, and in the old days when he managed Hopkins' Theater he had the town sitting up to take notice about all the time.

The very latest news down Studebaker way is that Montgomery and Stone will open that playhouse Monday evening, August 15, in "The Old Town."

MISS BLANCHE KUNZ

Miss Blanche Kunz, whose likeness appears on the cover page of this issue of the Show World, is well known in vaudeville as the leading member of the team of Kunz & Collinge. Miss Kunz is a vocalist and her partner plays the violin, the pair supplying a novelty musical act. Some time ago the Show World announced that Miss Marie Collinge, who assists Miss Kunz, would be succeeded in the act by Mr. Kunz, who had for some years been musical director at the Majestic Theater, Chicago.

ROUTE HAPPENINGS WITH SELLS-FLOTO.

Turn-away Business in Kansas City. Kan., Followed Engagement Across Line.

Kansas City, Mo., Tues., July 19.—Not much to say about this stand, as Harry Lay, the Kansas City writer for the Show World, has given all the news. He certainly is a hustler and a great booster for our show. The dance given Monday night was a grand success. The circus band donated their services and everybody pronounced the occasion perfect. Among the visitors at the dance were seen Otto Floto, Arthur Bennett, Mr. Rice (editor of an Emporia (Kans.) daily), Harry Lay, George Nisen and others, and say, they all danced. Ed Omens joined Saturday from the Forepaugh-Sells shows, replacing George Richards as boss property man. He took charge yesterday, and things are going much better in that department. Richards is a good boy, but lacks experience. Alex Lowande and wife and "Stick" Davenport and wife joined. Alex is doing bounding rope, Mrs. Lowande rolling globe and the Davenports principal riding. "Stick" is in elegant shape and rides the federal prison. Soldiers were out in swarms at both performances. Harry J. Lay is taking a few days' recreation and spending his time with the show. Says his feet itch so badly he can't get away from the smell of sawdust. Haul quite long but down hill all the way and we are loaded early.

St. Joseph, Mo., Fri., July 22.—Cloudy to start with and a sprinkle on parade, but cleared up, so we played to fair business at both performances. Somewhat disappointed as we expected big attendance. Long run tonight and everybody stayed on the lot to help load.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Sat., July 23.—Say, talk about running. We sure hit the high places last night. One hundred and thirty-two miles and were in at 5 o'clock. Parade was advertised for 12 o'clock so we went as per above. Rained slightly on parade and looked bad for the day, but am pleased to state, cleared up and we played to fair business at each performance. Most of the folks are stopping with Sam Bauman at the Lange Hotel. W. H. McFarland is on the sick list, but nothing serious. A big saengerfest just closed tonight, which may hurt Omaha business.—Stewart.

KALAMAZOO BLOOMER FOR TRUST ORGANIZATION

Ringling Brothers Got Hard Wallop in Big Michigan City.

Lonesome looking ballyhoo men hung about the entrances to the side shows on the North street grounds Saturday evening, waiting for the crowds of sight-seers which didn't materialize.

While the Ringling Bros.' Shows were well patronized in the afternoon, the attendance being mostly by people outside the city, the evening performance was given a decided frost by Kazooks. The long list of burglaries and incendiaries of the Saturday night previous had made the townsmen cautious and they did not care to leave their homes unguarded to attend a circus.

This heedfulness on the part of citizens meant a loss of thousands of dollars to the circus management, as the big circus arena contained hundreds upon hundreds of vacant seats, every one of which represented so much good money unspent.

The Ringling Shows were, however up to their usual standard and both performances were satisfactory. — Kalamazoo Evening Telegram.

THE WAY THEY ATTEND THE SELLS-FLOTO SHOWS

A Scene in Front Before the Opening of the Afternoon Performance at Wichita, Kan., Tuesday, July 12.

The Sells-Floto engagement at Wichita, Kan., on July 12 established a record for circus success in that city. Long before the gong rang for the beginning of both afternoon and evening performances, the big top was filled to its greatest capacity and people were seated close down to the edge of the hippodrome track.

The orderly manner in which the large crowds were handled and the absolute lack of rowdiness on the part of the circus employees excited favorable comment.

ERIE BAD BLOOMER FOR FRANK A. ROBBINS.

Corry, Pa., July 25, 1910.—Frank A. Robbins' circus played Erie July 21, Union City July 22, Corry July 23, and Franklin today. Robbins followed three big ones into Erie and the stand was the worst this season. Union City was a big one, this town was fair and Franklin fair.

Robbins has an old fashioned one-ring circus. The performance is very good. The one drawback seems to be the repetition of performers, each being required to do two or more acts.

Robbins has many friends here, as he listed the Cole Brothers' property last January and remained a month or more.

Rumors of short-changing and shell games are heard since the show left, but it is believed no one was seriously harmed.

JACK CAMPBELL BECOMES RAILROAD EMPLOYEE.

Jack Campbell, the well known agent who has been in advance of many well known Chicago attractions and who has of late been connected with the W. F. Mann forces, has been appointed assistant chief clerk in the motive power department of the C., M. & St. P. R. R. at Chicago.

Another Theater for Chicago.

Fremont B. and William B. Malcolm have leased a plot of ground from Mrs. Mary Otis Keep at No. 3202 West Madison street, Chicago, and are about to begin the construction of a three-story building which is to be occupied, in part, by a theater which will seat 1,650 people. The lease is for thirty years at a total rental of $72,265, or $2,408 per year.

Columbus, Ohio,

July 27—Our ranks are thinning. The Grim Reaper never closes the season. His harvest, wet with the tears of thousands, draws, mourners to the brink of the grave and points out the certainty of death and the way to live by the lessons left of the lives he buries. Those we loved in the profession die and are buried before we hear it. The coldness of this custom is more frigid than the chill of the tomb. While we live let's keep in perfect touch. When one of our number dies let's inaugurate a way of doing that will tell those who live we have not forgotten. I remember when Charles H. Day died. The notices he received in dramatic papers were so meagre that no doubt there are those of our clan who still think him captured with the world. Sam Joseph died three weeks ago and an inch of space told the story of the man. Sam Joseph was great in many ways. Press agents of this day and time are using the elementary principles upon which he built his splendid publicity structure. My hat is always off to "Tody" Hamilton, who lives the greatest of all press agents, and never failed to acknowledge the ideas of the late Sam Joseph. When "Tody" dies I want the right, if I survive, to pen the last farewell lines to him. I was glad indeed to write the tribute of love and remembrance to Jimmie DeWolf. I had the same printed on white satin and sent to circuses to frame and hang in the ticket wagon; to secret orders to frame and place on the walls of their lodge rooms; to dramatic papers for their sanctums, where stories of "white top" are created and given to press and paper. Why can't this custom of white satin tribute be adopted by show people everywhere? This week the death of Mrs. Virginia Jeffries Wolcott is announced. She was known to the stage by her maiden name, Virginia Jeffries. The end came at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Jeffries, this city, last Friday night. She was twenty-five years of age and had been on the stage about five years. She played in stock in a number of cities. Possessed of a fine figure and charming personality, she became quite a favorite. For the last two years she starred both east and west in her own company under the name of "The Virginia Jeffries Theatrical Company." Three weeks ago she collapsed from the strain of overwork and gave up the stage. Brain affection developed and spinal meningitis brought the end. Her husband, Edwin Walcott, survives. Her sweet sleep of eternity is at Greenlawn.

Birmingham, Ohio, One-Time

Good Thing for Wagon Shows.

I made a trip to the historic town of Birmingham, which, when blessed with a postoffice, was called Milnersville, situated near Cambridge, Ohio, and known to all old-time circus folk. No railroad touches the place. It is a stone's throw from the farm of "Cy" Young, the baseball pitcher, who has his home at Paoli, illuminated by the circus light. In the days of the wagon shows, when the "slick" ones worked the three thimbles and the paper wad and the old army game, Birmingham was a regular stop. Money hung on the trees and you could reach to a limb any morning and pull down a breakfast. The O'Brien show stopped here every year and took all the money in sight and out of sight. The old stone building that in those days served as a hotel and sheltered and hid many a circusman is now the home of my dearest friends. The late Frank Aldrich (you couldn't get them trickier) was compelled to flee from the sheriff and constable at Birmingham and the landlord of the then hotel hid him in the big chimney place. When Aldrich emerged he was made-up for the chimney-sweep play. He took into that chimney with him $1,000 he had worked an innocent for. I accompany this with a picture of the old hostelry, or inn. In front of the place are Dr. Rosamond, a friend of the profession, who has been physician at Birmingham all these years; Mrs. Kate Bell, of Los Angeles, Cal., whose father kept the old hotel, and Parson Waddell, my son. Dr. Rosamond says that every year brings two or three old-timers, who come to talk over circus days at Birmingham and look again upon the scene of the biggest money harvest known to wagon shows. Medicine shows pass that way now and stay one week.

D. H. Harris Divorced from Regular Circus Business.

I had a pleasant visit with D. H. Harris and his good wife, Madame Marantette, and Ed. Holder, at Indianola Park, the past week. They put on the Harris Hippodrome and Society Circus for two weeks and big crowds went to see it. Mr. and Mrs. Harris may never be seen with a circus again. They now have their own ear and are dated leading state and county fairs. This, they figure, makes it easier and gets them more money. Mr. Harris dated at leading state and county fairs. Cleveland. wore a marvelous creation of gauze and flowers. Every vagabond breeze in that vicinity instantly saw an opportunity to do stunts. Sooner than it takes to tell it, the summer muslin was describing the most alarming flights. But the owner, a hand on either side of her hat, kept on as stubbornly as though such a display of openwork hosiery and dainty lingerie and garters and well-groomed calves were an every-day affair. 'Madam,' cried another woman, rushing up to her, holding her own draperies in tight embrace, 'you probably are not aware of it, but your skirts are above your knees.' 'I don't care,' replied the ballet girl, never moving a finger from the flower-laden bonnet, 'I've had these legs for eighteen years and never lost them yet, but I have just bought the hat, paid $18 for it, and I don't mean to lose it.' I have no report from Middletown as to the weather handed the "Ten Big" Saturday, but from the over-hanging clouds at this point I believe the regular storm and rain came for them. Not far from Middletown Ed. Holder for two years has been in the livery stable business. I refer to Richmond, Ind. He has trained every sort of animal known. The other month he went to the stockyards at Chicago and when he approached the pens grunts of approval and welcome were heard all over, and by the time he got up to the bars of the pens dozens of porkers were there to recognize their old trainer and handler.

Dode Fisk R. R. Trouble Was Wildly Exaggerated.

I received word that the Dode Fiske circus has been wrecked, several killed, others injured and animals out. Long distance got me to R. E. (Doc) Minturn, the irrepressible New Lexington heavyweight at fixing, and the truth was told me: "Going from Hibbing to Colerain in Minnesota, one-fourth mile from Payne, we were wrecked at 3:30 a. m. A wheel on the front truck of a stock car broke while we were at full speed, demolishing second and third stock cars. No stock or people hurt." Doc Minturn writes: "We have done fine business up on the Iron Range. In all my experience I never met better officials and newspaper people. It has been a love-feast. We have had opposition with the Gollmar and Campbell Bros. shows, but it certainly did not hurt us. Any show that is able to deliver the goods and is without graft can come up here and get the money."

Columbus Car Strike Hurt Recent Circus Dates.

The street car company and its employees who belong to the union have been disputing for some time. The first strike was declared the day the Hagenbeck-Wallace and the 101 Ranch Wild West contested here for business. It has never been made clear to me why the circuses should be injured by parties with whom they never had dealings. The strike, you know, rendered going impossible to many. Had the cars been running I believe both shows could have given three performances that day. Well, the strike is on again. The union men walked out Sunday morning. The city is full of strikebreakers and desperate characters; the head of the police department is weak; the chief executive of the city is weaker. Thus beginneth and endeth the first chapter and the end is far off.

be changed to August 16, and perhaps later. The Cleveland date of the minstrels has been cancelled. About all that is known now for sure is that the Al G. Field Minstrels will open the Great Southern theater here during state fair week, the last of August. Doc Quigley, manager of the Field minstrels, began rehearsing today. The general agent of the minstrels has been changed. Col. W. C. Pickens, who was ahead last year, succeeds Harry Fitzgerald, who has returned to his home at Ogdensburg, N. Y. Harry goes to his home a sick lad. He will rest and recuperate. W. H. Edwards will be second man with the minstrels. This is his fourth season. Ed. Conard will be secretary and treasurer and not Joe Rieder. The latter is in the laundry business at Connersville, Ind. Will Walters will have charge of the band. He was formerly of the team of Howe, Wall & Walters. Joe Norton had the band last year, and the season before that, Ed. Brill. Brill, this season, will conduct the band with the Cohan & Harris minstrels. Georgia A. Dean has signed to be Uncle Al's stage carpenter. For two seasons Dean was assistant stage carpenter for Klaw & Erlanger's "Ben Hur" and last season worked with the hippodrome here, as did also Billy Ahern and wife, classy equilibrists and head-balancers. The latter are at Lancaster this week and will be at Collins Garden, this city, next week. Ed. Browning, known to the road all about—one of the best—is stage manager of Collins' Garden. The Harris combination plays Chillicothe, Ohio, July 28, 29, 30 and 31 at the baseball park for the benefit of the Chillicothe team. Holder and I had quite a talk of the old days of the John Robinson "Ten Big," which showed Middletown last Saturday. We did not visit, for the reason we feared storm and rain. When we were with John Robinson the wind and the rain always came in torrents when Middletown was reached. My route book of 1905 reads: "August 14, Middletown—It rained; then it poured. The lot flooded. Trained sea lions jumped off elevated stage and swam under reserved seats. Steam engines engaged and the water pumped off. Ricardo, the magician, and his wife, were visitors. Whitey Crossett saw this: One of our ballet girls was caught in the wind and rain just as she turned a corner on a crowded street. Her gown was the lightest of summer muslins, and on her head she

RELEASED BY SALES CO.

"Once Upon a Time," by the Imp Co., released Aug. 8, length 975 feet. A country youth is in love with a country girl, but she does not reciprocate, as her ideal is a knight, the kind she has read of in books. The young man becomes discouraged and secures a knight's costume, and, masquerading in it, makes love to her as in days of old. After he wins her love in this garb he discloses his identity, whereupon she becomes very indignant, but after considerable persuasion she decides that a farmer boy is better than a knight.

"Hoodoo Alarm Clock," by the Imp Co., released Aug. 11, length 990 feet: A young husband is called to the city hurriedly. After several strenuous efforts, in which he falls in a bath Paying by far the highest salaries in order to secure the best talent in the moving picture business—in some cases two and three times as much as other manufacturers are paying—is it any wonder that the IMP maintains its wonderful standard of excellence? Is it any wonder that IMP FILMS are worth their weight in gold to every exhibitor who uses them regularly? Think it over a bit!

"ONCE UPON A TIME"

The sort of drama that the women folks call "charming." A clean love story of rustic simplicity. One of the best staged and best enacted IMPs ever produced. Demand! Insist. Beg! Released Monday, August 8th. Length about 975 feet.

"HOODOO ALARM CLOCK"

A screaming comedy that will make your whole house rock with laughter. Even funnier, in some respects, than our record-breaking "Fruit and Flowers" release. For heaven's sake, get it! Released Thursday, August 11th. Length about 990 feet.

Otto Floto's COLUMN

Denver, Col., July 27. From the information that I have at hand I am positive that James J. Jeffries will never enter the ring again. I make this statement, too, in the face of all that has been said about a second meeting between the former champion and the Smoke. There is one great obstacle that Jim just can't overcome, and that is his wife. She has set her head on one point, and that is that Jim will not fight again. In the drawing room on their private car, leaving Reno, the day after the fight, she, Jim and myself were seated together. Only once did she refer to the fight, and that was when she said: "Let's be thankful that no bones were broken. The fight is over now and I will have Jim to myself from this time on. I never want him to fight again."

That statement should be strong enough to silence for all time the report that he is going to fight again. Jim, in speaking of the battle, said: "I don't wish to take any credit away from Johnson for beating me. But I will always believe that had the fight taken place two weeks previous there would now be a different story to tell. The change from Rorardennan to Moana Springs broke up my training program and made all the difference in the world. I felt myself slipping back from that moment, but didn't want to say anything, for fear that the public would think I was trying to get out of the match. I waited just two weeks too long; that's all there is to it. I saw the openings, but could not take advantage of them. Somehow or other I could not get my mind to work as it should, and felt after a very few rounds that I was not myself. What I feel sorry most about is the money my friends lost on me. I will go to Los Angeles and spend a few weeks, then go on a hunting trip with some friends. After that we will take a trip around the world and then come back to the farm and settle down."

It is true that many of his friends have written him since that time, urging him to reconsider his determination to retire. They argue with him that he has everything to gain and nothing to lose. It may make some difference with him, and he may change his mind and lend a willing ear. But while it is possible that he may do such a thing, it is not probable. I know Jim about as well as any other man does, and while we were all seated in the drawing room he looked and acted as if he meant every word he was saying. Tex Rickard has signified his willingness to stage another bout between the pair, and will offer a purse. Then, too, Johnson would be willing to meet Jeff again for the money there is in it. All it requires now is Jeff's consent. Will he say "Yes" or "No"?

All baseball interest centers in the race for the National League pennant. The Athletics seem to hold a double-riveted mortgage on the emblem in the American League, and unless something unlooked for happens will canter under the wire with the bunting trailing in the dust. In the National, the Cubs must battle for every inch of ground. They have formidable opponents in New York and Pittsburgh; the latter team especially is playing the best article of ball that they have presented this season, and are coming with a rush. They must be stopped, and it will be up to the Cubs to accomplish the trick. Frank Chance is sitting up nights figuring out schemes to strengthen his play, and will keep the other fellows guessing all the time that the Cub team is on the field. Chance is fortunate in having his pitching staff in good shape just now, when he needs them most. With many double-headers coming up, all the twirlers will be worked. He has, however, selected Brown, Ruelbach, Overall and Cole to go into the box in regular turn. Then he will have Pfeister, Pfeffer, Kroh and McIntyre to fall back on. This gives him eight men to hurl the pellet for him on the coming trip. If he can come home in first place and increase his lead on the next home series, it then begins to look as if the Cubs and Quakers were going to fight it out between themselves this fall. If they do, all records for attendance at world's series games will be broken.

JEFF'S WIFE WON'T LET HIM

Mrs. James J. Has Put Her Foot Down Upon Return Match With Johnson—
Sporting Briefs.

Hugh McIntosh, the Australian promoter, is certainly the busy little bee. He is leaving nothing undone to arrange bouts both for London and Australia. He has made offers to many fighters, and is doing his level best to bring about a meeting between Langford and Tommy Burns. He is also trying to induce Johnson to sign articles to meet his "Unknown" in London. Johnson is not adverse to signing articles, but insists that the name of the "Unknown" be made public. Big Jack labors under the impression that the "Unknown" is none other than "Beggars Sam," and Jack figures that there is no easier game in the pugilistic market at the present time.

McIntosh has a big stadium in Sydney that needs attractions, and he has arranged for one of the biggest halls in London, as well as Paris, to stage bouts. With three sites in sight, all he needs are attractions that will fill them. This seems to be the one stumbling block to the consummation of his schemes. Then, too, McIntosh wants large men; he thinks the lighter classes do not draw as the heavies, while they are just as much trouble to arrange.

It is a pretty, as well as a generous tures. He may wish he hadn't done so, and then, again, who can tell! It may have been one of the wisest moves in the world that he did, for the film, after all this agitation, might prove a big financial success.

I will never forget the afternoon that William Rock laid in the grass with Rickard and Jeffries and closed his deal for their interests. They held off a long time, and when Rock finally said "$100,000," Jeffries slowly arose and held one finger up to his wife, who sat some distance away, telling her that they had offered the $100,000. She nodded and then Jeff said, "I am going on the road, and will give you my answer just as soon as I get back." When he returned he said "All right; I'll take it if Rickard does." Tex agreed and the pictures were sold there and then.

In the Realm of Sport

Joe Woodman, manager of Sam Langford, is still hot on the trail of Jack Johnson and intends to make him fight.

The stopping of the boxing game at Los Angeles means that all future bouts teen games ahead of the Tigers just now, and still Hughie Jennings says his team "will come with a rush." That's what we have heard all season, but the "rush" we notice is with a "can."

Tannehill, the veteran Pittsburgh pitcher, has given up his job with the Minneapolis team because, as he states himself, "I could not make good and was not earning my salary." Few ball players ever quit because they cannot earn their salary.

After making four hits in a recent game against Detroit, Mr. Speaker made a glaring error that lost the game. The he was a dub.

A Philadelphia club has offered $50,000 for a six-round bout between Jeffries and Al. Kaufman. That looks like a lot of money to be paying to the gentleman that had the bad end of the recent conference at Reno. It also shows that Jimma de Jeff is still considered some card.

Jimmy O'Rourke, the Columbus third baseman, who was hit by a pitched ball the other day, is still in the hospital speechless. The blow seems to have paralyzed his vocal chords. It would be horrible to contemplate what the umpires would do if Mugsy McGraw should be hit in the same manner.

Packey McFarland, the Chicago scrapper, who just returned from abroad, says he has been offered a purse of $12,000 to go back to Ireland and meet Freddie Welsh. Packey has accepted and is waiting to hear from Welsh.

Jack Johnson and George Little are still lawing about the big sparkler that the Smoke wears. Just at the present time Johnson is in the lead. When the get through the lawyers will be wearing the ring.

It is expected that over one hundred swimmers will take part in the Chicago river Marathon, which is scheduled to take place Aug. 12. Every swimmer will be accompanied by three men in a boat. This may crowd things to such an extent that the race will prove a farce.

Both the trotting and pacing records were broken at the Grand Rapids track last week. Giftline dropped the pacing notch to 2:02 3/4, and Halworthy set the trotting mark at 2:07 3/4. These are the fastest miles ever made on track.

Joe McGinnity, the "iron man," pitching better ball this year than in some time. The other day he allowed but two men to reach first base on a hit and the other a "walk."

Evidently Ban Johnson wants to put a stop to the scandal-monger in the league, and has offered a reward of $50 for proof that a "tipping" bureau exists in New York or anywhere else on his circuit.

At Parkersburg, W. Va., the other day Barney Oldfield lowered his own mile record on a half-mile track from 1:08 to 1:06 flat. That is certainly taking the turns at top speed.

Some people say that the National League is faster than the American League. Yet look at the American League pitchers that wouldn't do in the Ban Johnson organization that are making good in the National. Suggs and Burns, for instance.

It is now said that the "Unknown" that Hugh McIntosh intends to put against Johnson is none other than Warren Barbour, son of the rich thread manufacturer of that name. Who will be the next mentioned?

CARLE HAS DIFFICULTY WITH CAB CHAUFFEUR

thing when a manager of the opposing team helps a young player out. In a recent game in New York, Bush was at bat and popped up a high foul. Mitchell, the New York catcher, went after it, but the players shouted "You can't get it." He stopped and the ball dropped four feet inside the grandstand. Then the crowd howled and gaped Mitchell. Jennings walked to the stands and said: "You tell the fellow he can't get it, and then when he does as you tell him you roast him. Give him a chance." Jennings was loudly cheered for this speech. It is just because of little things of this kind that Jennings is a great man. A fellow only rises as high as his own caliber. If it's in you, you go to the top, and if it's not in you, you stay right where you are. That's why Hughie is on top.

Speaking of Jennings and his failure to keep the Tigers on top, we are again shown how valuable a pitcher is. When big George Mullin was going right and in shape he was winning in rapid succession for Jennings. He began this season in his usual brilliant style, only to fall down of late, until he has six defeats or so in a row charged up against him. His flinging has been nothing like the work he did last year or in the world's series. If Hughie had Mullin and Donovan right at this time he would still be able to make Connie Mack's men work to retain the lead in the race.

Arrangements have been made with Jack Gleason to lecture on the fight pictures wherever shown. Gleason, unlike Rickard, retained his interest in the pic-under the promotion of Uncle Tom McCarey will take place at Vernon.

Tom Hughes, of Minneapolis, had his record of thirteen strike-outs in a single game tied by Weaver, of Louisville, who forced thirteen St. Paul players to whiff.

Choyinski is urging Jeffries to meet Jack Johnson again in the ring. Joe is a firm believer in having two or three trials. He may be right in contending that, with nothing to lose and everything to gain, Jeffries may give a much better account of himself.

Announcement is being made that the Royal Steamship Company of Bermuda will give a trophy for the best baseball team in that land. The champions are better known as the Bermuda Onions.

If Johnson refuses to meet Langford, "Beggars Sam" will try and get something on with Al. Kaufman or Bill Lang. Anybody or anything suits the "bone crusher."

Johnson must pay $700 in taxes to the County of Cook. His statement that he had $30,000 in the bank, made when Little attached him, caused the assessor to hunt up Jack and have conversation with him.

What a sorry record the Giants are making on their western trip this time. They got a splendid start in Chicago, then had holes punctured in their sides by the rest of the western contingent.

The White Sox were formerly known as the "hitless" wonders; now they have added to that title the "victoryless" wonders as well. It's always a good thing to have plenty of titles.

The Athletics are something like four-

"The Pantomimist Who Found He Could do Four Shows, and then Some."

By FRANCIS OWEN of Owen & Hoffman

Once upon a time there was a silent COMEDIAN named GEORGE, who refused a certain HOUSE because it gave FOUR shows a day. He told the AGENT he needed the Money, but his ACT was too hard, and to give FOUR a day would kill him SURE. Shortly after this HE met an ACTOR friend of his who said: "GEORGE, why don't you work for the PICTURE people when they pay off? It isn't work—only fun, and right in your line." The PANTOMIMIST took the friend's advice, and cinched a job on a FLICKER, where he was to play a BOOK AGENT. He lugged a heavy SUIT CASE ten miles in the rain, FOUR mornings in succession, till SOME one turned on the SUN CIRCUIT, and the FILM fiends gamboled forth for the FRED WALTON "doins." The first picture was where he BOOK AGENT was kicked out of a dozen different houses, and to vary the MONOTONY, he had to carry FORTY dozen different falls, and be kicked in a HUNDRED different ways. They rehearsed this FOUR times, and the PANTOMIMIST was sure every BONE in his body was BROKEN, and there was not an inch of CUTICLE that wasn't BLACK and BLUE. After his little pastime was over, his friend—who was also in it and assisted in the KICKING—said: "GEORGE, isn't it fun?" GEORGE said that it was certainly great SPORT, and HE was only afraid he wouldn't hold out to see the FINISH. The next picture was where the BOOK AGENT was beaten over the HEAD by a farmer's wife, had flour thrown all over his PRINCE ALBERT, was squeezed through a window, bitten by a dog, and CHASED over a hay-stack by the entire COMPANY. They rehearsed this FOUR times, and only topped then because GEORGE'S clothes needed CENSORING before HE could be properly presented to respectable PEOPLE. "GEORGE, isn't it fun?" said his friend. GEORGE tried to smile, but looked so hideous with his face scratched, bruised, and covered with flour, that his FRIEND backed away and hid behind the CAMERA. They went in to DINNER then, and every one sat down to eat—except GEORGE. HE said he always DINED standing up, like PAUL GOUDRON. After dinner GEORGE was pushed FOUR times off a bridge FORTY feet high, kicked FOUR times from a BOAT into muddy water, had his left eye nearly GOUGED out by a boat hook, his head cut open on a rock, and didn't have enough STRENGTH left to MASH his FRIEND'S face when that INDIVIDUAL said for the third time: "GEORGE, isn't it fun?" The PICTURE man handed him the MAGNIFICENT sum of five dollars for the day's EASY work, and he managed to drag himself home with small boys following him, saying: "Say, MISTER, where was the EX-LOSION?" The DOCTOR assured him he would pull through all right, but WONDERED why George didn't

SWITCH drinks when he felt THEM coming on. The PANTOMIMIST paid out the FIVE to get his CLOTHES cleaned, and dug down in the GROUCH sack for two dollars for LINIMENT, ONE for sticking plaster, FIFTEEN dollars for DOCTOR bill, and THREE for a new pair of SHOES. HE had FORTY count 'em—FORTY black and blue SPOTS, a TIN ear, and a compound fracture of the RIGHT eyebrow. When he was able to walk slowly with the aid of a CANE, he saw the FRIEND coming down the STREET who had made him a PICTURE ACTOR. GEORGE took a firmer grip on the BLACKTHORN, and prayed for strength to aid him in the "fight of the CENTURY." But the friend saw the baleful look in GEORGE'S eyes, and contented himself with getting a good start and shouting, "Isn't it fun?" After he could see out of both eyes and not be mistaken for JEFF in the FIFTEENTH round, GEORGE walked in on the AGENT and asked for the FOUR-a-day house he had once turned down. The AGENT gave him a reproachful look and asked him if he was sure he could do FOUR with such a hard ACT as his? "I can, and tickled to death at that," said GEORGE. "Why say, BO, all I give is FOUR. I don't REHEARSE FOUR times, I'm not KICKED FOUR times, or knocked out FOUR times, I don't fall off a BRIDGE FOUR times." The AGENT said that was about enough, but since GEORGE felt that way about it, HE had FOUR houses he could give him, with FOUR shows a day—for the same money. GEORGE thanked him, walked over to a NICKELODEON, where the TORTURE picture he had worked in was being shown, and when people laughed because the BOOK AGENT was being tossed around like a MEDICINE BALL, he arose in his SEAT and HISSED at the AUDIENCE in a SAVAGE WHISPER—"LAUGH, YOU IDIOTS. LAUGH—ISN'T IT FUN?"

SUNDAY SHOWS IN KOKOMO DISCONTINUED

Kokomo, Ind., July 25.—By agreement with Mayor Puckett the theatrical managers of Kokomo have discontinued the Sunday shows here. The mayor has issued a strong statement giving the theatrical men credit for closing up of their own volition. Mr. Puckett was the chief figure in a bitter attack by the Prohibition leaders and reformers not long ago when he refused to order the theaters to close their doors on Sundays.

Vesta Victoria at Majestic.

Vesta Victoria, favorite English comedienne, will be the head-line performer at the Majestic theater, Chicago, next week. A number of other notable vaudevillians will appear on the same bill.

PITTSBURG TO HOLD LAND SHOW IN OCTOBER

The indoor exposition seems to hold its own, every city of importance in the country is holding at least one every season. The most recent form of exposition is the Land Show, one of which was held at the Coliseum in Chicago last November; this was attended by over 300,000 visitors during its short season of sixteen days.

Another big show of this kind is to be held at Pittsburg, October 16 to 29, under the auspices of two of the most influential newspapers in the city. The show will include government exhibits and exhibits of land interest from every section in the country. There will be spaces for concessions of all kinds and band concerts and other amusements will be included in the program.

The show will be advertised on an enormous scale and visitors from all parts of the country are expected. Francis C. McCarty, the former vaudeville agent, is the director-general of administration. Sydney Wire has been appointed to take charge of the publicity department.

ROCHESTER BOY'S PLAY BY VAUGHN GLASER CO.

Rochester, N. Y., July 25.—Vaughn Glaser and company begin an engagement at the Temple theater here this evening, presenting for the first week "Cameo Kirby." Miss Fay Courtney continues in the leading feminine roles.

An event of more than usual interest during the engagement will be the presentation of "At the Mercy of Tiberius," by Charles Carver, a member of the company and a resident of this city.

"DAN CUPID" REHEARSALS BEGIN NEXT MONDAY.

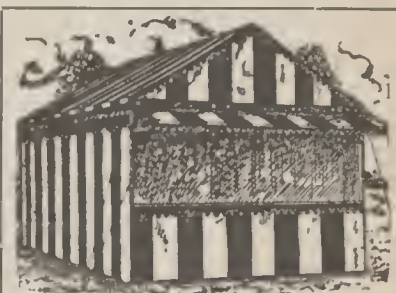

Rehearsals of "Dan Cupid," under the direction of J. K. Vetter, of Chicago, are to begin at Freeport, Ill., next Monday. The show opens at Dubuque, Iowa, August 20. The following people have been engaged: Myra Jefferson, Blanche Ray, Minnie Wade, Beth Hansel, Clara Clay, Lizzie Cloud, Addie Adair, Dorothy Howard, Inza West, Jane Kiggins, Maza Kindley, Luta Tracy, John D. Caylor, J. A. Weaver, J. W. Maurston, F. L. Clouds, Jess M. Massey and Major Not Much, the midget comedian.

Mr. Vetter will open "Two Merry Tramps," another musical show employing about twenty people, on August 15; the opening city has not yet been decided upon.

JULY 30, 1910

Ben H. Atwell, formerly city editor of the Chicago Journal and now press representative for the particularly high-browed Russian ballet tour, is delighted with the reduction in the price of The Show World. He writes that, with the paper selling for five cents, he can now read it every week instead of every second week as before.

TO THE EDITOR

Wilkes Barre, Pa., July 23, 1910.
Warren A. Patrick. Show World, Chicago.

Dear Sir: Bully for the Show World! You have struck the keynote in giving the public a real theatrical and circus sheet at a five cent price. Your paper is as bright as a new dollar and devoid of the usual grist of heated atmosphere usually found in amusement organs. Dig up a few eastern correspondents, as we would like to be represented in your columns. It will be a pleasure to aid you in any way possible towards securing extra publicity for the Show World in this section.

Yours sincerely,
Gordon Wrighter,
Mgr. Poli's Theater.

Letters like this one are only an indication of the upheaval the Show World has already caused in the field of amusement papers. Three years young, the Show World has a future. It is proving successful because it is a n-e-w-s-p-a-p-e-r devoted to the interests of followers of amusements everywhere.

The latest Richard Strauss opera, "Feuersnot," produced in London, is in one act and lasts less than an hour. The first-night audience was delighted.

WILL PERFORMERS BE HIT BY THEIR OWN BOOMERANG?

The boomerang is a device characteristic of Australia where its use is confined to the semi-barbarous bushmen who find that it saves a lot of walking to be able to throw a weapon which will return to the thrower in case a shot is missed. Even in Australia, indeed, the boomerang is passing as a crude instrument which doesn't belong to these days of modern civilization. The agitation which is on in Chicago relative to the exhibition of the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures suggests that the second city in the United States is experiencing a retrogression—that folks here are toying with a boomerang. Champions of one brand of high class morality have hurled a weapon at what they have chosen to call a "brutal, demoralizing exhibition," and now, if Chief of Police L. T. Steward stands pat, this weapon will come back and hit them fairly between the eyes.

Acting upon an application which has been made for a license to exhibit the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures in Chicago, Chief Steward on Monday issued the following order to his assistant superintendent of police, the real executive head of the department: "Permit the exhibition of no pictures or representation in any form of acts illegal in the state of Illinois." In explanation Chief Steward said emphatically that the order speaks for itself and is to be interpreted literally, as it reads. The official's position in the matter is clear. He realizes that the country's constitution guarantees a government of laws and not of men. He knows that certain things cannot be prohibited merely because he wishes them to be prohibited but must stand or fall because they are either right or wrong with existing laws as the standard of judgment. In other words, Chief Steward has merely directed that existing laws be enforced and that his construction of existing law is that the representation in any way of things that are illegal in the state of Illinois is likewise illegal.

Reformers who have insisted that the Jeffries-Johnson pictures be barred from Chicago, it would seem, must therefore prepare themselves for expurgated editions of Shakespeare and the drama as exemplified by other classic authors. Chief Steward must, to be consistent, insist upon "Hamlet" without its murder scene and Macbeth without its dripping dagger. It will be a long time before murder will be legal in Illinois. "The Death of Caesar," by Gerome, at the Art Institute, is in danger, if Chief Steward plans to be consistent—for it is certainly the representation of an act that is illegal in the state of Illinois. And innocent "Baby Mine" which has been delighting thousands in Chicago for months, mainly through its representation of the illegal act of kidnaping, must go—if Chief Steward plans to be consistent.

But the chief's ultimatum is not the last word in this controversy if the Illinois moving picture men who have the state rights for the films really gave up fifty thousand real, cold dollars for their rights, as it has been announced they did. Fifty thousand dollars is a lot of money and worth a lot of argument. And the courts in the land are commonly supposed to have been established for the interpretation of law which chiefs of police are appointed to administer. The governor of one of these United States had his gray matter working the other day when he said that he was no gambler, did not bluff, and consequently was not going to prohibit anything which he had no right to prohibit. "The legislative body of any community, town, city or state can prohibit these things by enacting laws, if laws to cover them do not already exist," he said, "but the stretching of laws to accomplish a purpose, laudable as this purpose may be, will not suffice."

Looking at the matter from an absolutely disinterested standpoint it would seem that the country-wide agitation against the fight pictures is the magnification of an ant hill into a mountain. If the exhibition of fight pictures is demoralizing, it remains a certainty that the exhibition of the Jeffries-Johnson pictures would demoralize a fewer number of people than has been demoralized by any set of fight pictures made in years. The result of the battle was far from being popular and the public wants to forget it. If given free rein the pictures would run themselves out in less time than has been taken up with the discussion of their influence upon poor, dependent Young America which is thrown face to face with vice at every corner in every great city and still seems to be weathering the gale.

WALTER L. MAIN ANNOUNCES POSITION ON CIRCUS QUESTION

Walter L. Main, veteran circus man, has favored The Show World with the following communication which is self-explanatory and tells where he stands in certain circus activities with which his name has been associated during the past few weeks: Show World, Chicago.

Gentlemen:—As I remember it, a few weeks ago there was a write-up in your paper saying that I had affiliated myself with Walter Shannon and Mr. Brotherton, his backer for my county, in the Norris-McGee circus deal and that my Ashtabula county friend and I did not now speak as we passed by. This is a mistake. While we are not close friends, Mr. Brotherton and I are acquaintances and have never had any misunderstanding.

When I started for the Norris & Rowe sale I intended to buy or bid on anything that went cheap, and that I thought I could sell again and turn a profit. When I got on the train at Geneva, Mr. Brotherton was aboard and we rode all the way to Peru together. I did not know until that time that he wanted the show. He said that he had corresponded with Shannon, and I asked him if his correspondence had not been with Rowe. His reply was that he was sure it had been with Shannon and that he thought he would buy the show and make Shannon manager of it. I agreed not to bid against him if he wanted the show, and I boosted the deal under circumstances which would have made many a man a knocker and not a booster.

Mr. Brotherton was undecided as to whether or not he would bid, and I told him that, although I had met Shannon but twice in my life, I regarded him as a gentleman and thought that he had not been given a fair chance for his $15,000 or $20,000 which he had invested in the show, when it had been closed after being out only three weeks. I am always sorry to see any man lose his money without a fair run for it.

When we arrived in Peru, Shannon met us at the train and I told Shannon that if he wanted to make the deal he had better keep Brotherton in the background and prevent knocking showmen from upsetting his plans. I suggested that he get a buggy and take Mr. Brotherton out to the farm to look at the property. He followed my advice and I did not know until the next morning that they had finally agreed to bid on the show. Just before the sale began, Shannon told me it was a go and asked me to help them all I could. I did help all I could, although I had no financial interest whatever in the deal. My only information as to the future of the show, at this writing, is that published in the Show World last week, which said that the show would go on the road in the fall.

My attention has also been called to another publication in your paper, saying that I as back in the harness again with a certain circus, and that I insisted upon the agents calling me "Governor," as I had done with the Big Maf circus. In a way I did insist upon being called "Governor" with the Main show. I really did not care what they called me, whether it was "Governor" or something else, just so it was not Main—and with reason. When the citizens in a town you are playing with a circus know who you are each person who meets you wants to sue you or to hold you up for free tickets, and you are continually annoyed from the time you strike town until you leave it. Any of the big show managers will agree with me that it is best to go on the still hunt and not to be too much in the limelight.

In conclusion, I have not signed a contract to be the general agent for any circus. I have dealings of a private nature with some American circumstances, but am not responsible whether they win or lose.

Yours very truly,
W. L. Main.

REHEARSING CHICAGO SINGERS FOR CHORUS

Under the direction of Chevalier D. Emanuel rehearsals of the Chicago Grand Opera Chorus class have begun at the Auditorium theater in the Windy City. Chicago singers are to be trained in grand opera in order that they may assist the regular company chorus which is to be recruited in Europe and from members of the Metropolitan and Manhattan opera companies in New York City.

BONITA COMPANY'S TROUBLES STIR SEATTLE.

Seattle, Wash., July 25.—The standing of the Bonita Musical Comedy Company in this city recently stirred up a merry scrap between the Seattle Times and the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, who are always aching for a chance at each other's throats. Bonita and her associates had been playing at the Grand Opera House and the Times roasted the show unmercifully. Bad business which, according to Bonita, resulted from this roasting, caused the abrupt closing of the company on Saturday, July 16. The Times found that ten of the girls of the company had been left high and dry in Seattle without a cent and promoted a benefit for them. The Post-Intelligencer, in an interview with Bonita prior to her departure for New York, discourages the benefit by saying that none of the original Bonita girls was in need of financial help.

It is intimated that the standing of the "Wine, Woman and Song" star has not been materially helped by her conduct in connection with the stranding of her company.

SAYING SEASON'S FAREWELL WITH DAY'S OUTING.

Minot, N. D., July 26.—A. A. Powers, of the Parker Carnival Company, has sent out invitations to friends in the show business everywhere to a daylight outing and excursion which is to be his farewell testimonial for the present season. Mr. Powers' guests will be taken a ride along the beautiful Mouse river and will enjoy outdoor amusements along the way, stopping at Wildwood Park. Friday, July 29, is the day which has been fixed for the outing.

Miss Edythe Mote, the California cantatrice, is to play a quick return engagement at the Waukegan theater next week. Miss Mote appeared at the pretty little playhouse the week of July 17 and made an excellent impression.

WALTER MAIN KEEPING CIRCUS MIND WORKING.

Geneva, O., July 25.—Despite the fact that he is out of the circus business, Walter L. Main seems to be almost as busy with problems in routing as he was when his name was flaunted before his own thirty-car show. The visitor to Mr. Main's office here at almost any time will find the circus man poring over maps and railroad guides. He says he doesn't care to get rusty and is further living the old circus life by buying up circus property to sell it again.

Thomas Jefferson Ford is agent for Gollmer Brothers. Bob Abrams is with Wallace. Clint Francis is moving back to his old home in Rome, N. Y., having recently resigned his position as general agent of the Famous Robinson Shows. Mr. Francis says that George Aikin has left the John Robinson Big Shows to accept the position which he has just vacated. Joe Berris is with the Yankee Robinson Circus. A. D. Moreland and Frank Griswold have both retired from the show business, the former made a fortune with the Main circus camp and stands and is now selling automobiles and Mr. Griswold is looking after his fruit ranch.

The Forepaugh-Sells Shows are contracted for here early in September. The Reese Brothers' Minstrels and the Minnelli Brothers' Dramatic Company, both playing under canvass, have appeared here this season; the Minnelli company is expected back in August.

Rehearsing at Sheepshead.

Mabel Hite and supporting company, including Mike Donlin, are preparing for another season's tramping in "A Certain Party." The star and her husband have taken a twelve-room residence at Sheepshead Bay and rehearsals will begin there in the near future.

SELLS-FLOTO SHOWS MAKE HIT IN LEAVENWORTH

Leavenworth, Kas., July 25.—The Sells-Floto Circus showed here July 21 to capacity, notwithstanding the heavy billing of Forepaugh-Sells and Barnum & Bailey. Even with several large picnics in the city the circus had all the business it could handle. It was pronounced by everyone to be the best and cleanest show seen here for many years. The horses attracted particular attention, especially among lovers of good horse flesh. No circus ever visited this city with horses which compared at all favorably with those of the Sells-Floto. The horse tent was the center of an admiring crowd who were trying to find out how the many horses were kept in such splendid condition. The circus men said that good horses to begin with and plenty of timothy hay, oats, and attention did the work.

The performance was especially good, with every act a headliner. The stunts of Spader Johnson evoked a continual roar of laughter, as did those of the many other clowns. The absence of grafters was conspicuous and created much favorable comment. The Sells-Floto circus has certainly made a place in the hearts of the amusement loving people of this city and if they return next year their seating capacity must needs be much greater. If all circuses caused the police as little trouble as did Sells-Floto they would not be troubled by high licenses, which many cities make to save themselves from the grafters and followers of many of present day shows.—Corlette.

Bill Cars Caught in Wreck.

Two of the Hagenbeck-Wallace bill cars were damaged in railroad wrecks recently; one was taken to the Wabash shops in Peru and the other was repaired in the Lake Erie shops in the same place.

CRAWFORD TO BATTLE PICTURE COMBINE

St. Louis Magnote Prepares to Fight Octopus Which Cancels His License—Is Strongly Entrenched.

St. Louis, July 27. (Special Correspondence). The revoking of the license of the Crawford and the Western Film Exchanges by the Patents Company and the announcement that the Yale Film Exchange, owned by the picture trust, would open Monday morning has just been made public.

While many of the exhibitors are planning to take service from the Yale Company a number of them will continue doing business with the Crawford and Western companies for sixty days at least. It is said the trust will take away the licenses of the exhibitors who continue to take service from the two suspended firms but it is also said that the exhibitors have been promised that the two firms will pay the fine that would result from this procedure.

The men in charge of the Yale Company are said to have made offers to the employees of the Western and the Crawford to try and get them to desert their employers. One of the best men in the Crawford agency was offered a considerable raise in salary if he would desert Crawford immediately and go to work for the Yale Company. The who has charge of giving out and shipping films refused the offer and has announced his intention of sticking to Crawford.

May Sue the Trust.

While neither Crawford or the owners of the Western concern have made any announcement it is said that they contemplate a suit against the Patents Company. It is rumored here that the licenses of the firms were taken away because they did not buy enough releases, and that the Patents Company believes that they can better supply the exhibitors of St. Louis with an exchange of their own.

Members of both firms seem to be waiting until after the weekly meeting of the Patents Company which takes place in New York Thursday before announcing their intention.

Crawford Has Big Interests.

O. T. Crawford, the proprietor of the Crawford Exchange is one of the biggest exhibitors in St. Louis as well as the owner of the Crawford Exchange. He has the Novelty Theater and Roof Garden, a big interest in the Lyceum

Theater and in a hundred or more smaller houses in the city.

He is one of the most aggressive and successful men in the picture game in St. Louis and he will prove a powerful enemy of the Patents Company if he is not given a square deal.

Besides owning an interest in a number of places Mr. Crawford has thousands of friends among the exhibitors. He has been their friend through thick and thin and has carried a number of them on the books during the times they have had bad business.

Western Also Strong Factor.

The Western Film Exchange, while not so powerful a factor, locally is said to have a great number of friends who will aid them in the fight on the Patents Company, if some satisfactory arrangement is not made at the meeting on Thursday. Everybody in the two firms seem to be waiting for the result of the meeting and are not saying much.

Many of the exhibitors say that they will not take films from the Yale Company and that they will go over to the Independents if Crawford and the Western Company are not reinstated.—Will Spink.

DAN FISHELL RESIGNS

FROM SHUBERT EMPLOY.

St. Louis, Mo., July 27th. (Special Correspondence.) Dan Fishell the manager of the Garrick Theater has resigned as the St. Louis representative of the Shubert Brothers.

The Republic this morning printed a story that Mr. Fishell resigned his position because of the unreasonable terms demanded by the Shuberts to book the Princess Theater which Fishell built on Grand avenue and Olive street.

This was denied by Leonard A. Blumberg who will succeed Mr. Fishell at the Garrick and who came from Indianapolis today to look the Garrick over and to arrange things for the coming season.

Dispatches from New York announce that Fishell has arranged with William Morris to play Morris Vaudeville at the Princess and that "The Barnyard Romeo" would be the headline attraction the opening week.—Wm. Spink.

NORRIS & ROWE CIRCUS TO BE SOLD THIRD TIME.

Court Disapproves Second Sale and Orders Another—Spirited Bidding Is Looked For—Sale May Be Held Aug. 6.

Peru, Ind., July 26. For the third time the ill-fated Norris & Rowe circus property is to go under the hammer. At the first sale W. A. Shannon bid something like $21,000, paying a deposit of $3,000. His backers failing to pay the balance, a second sale was ordered by the court. At the second sale Mr. Shannon bid $18,000, but in making payment took credit for the first $3,000 paid. When the sale was presented to the court for approval it refused to ratify same and ordered a third sale. At the request of various circus men who desire to bid for the property, the sale will probably be held on Aug. 6.

COLORED CIRCUS HAND CHARGED WITH ROBBERY

Saginaw, Mich., July 25, 1910.—Charles Smith, alias "Doublehead," negro employe, was arrested for the Saginaw police department at New-castle, Ind., last week. Smith, it is charged, is the originator of the trouble which occurred in this city at the Hagenbeck-Wallace shows on June 3, and is the man whom John Carroll describes as having robbed him. After the robbery, and during the melee in which the crowd of negro employes made their assault upon Police Lieutenant McCoy, and also threatened Captain Baskin, who went to the rescue, he is said to have taken a leading part.

Finishing European Engagement.

Vardon, Perry & Wilber, "Those Three Boys," are about to return to America after an extended tour of Europe where they played many of the principal music halls; they sail September 14 and will spend September 24 in Chicago prior to opening on the Sullivan & Considine time at Winnipeg.

GENTRY BROTHERS DENY CIRCUS TRUST GETS THEM.

Wait and Frank Gentry, who were in Chicago this week, emphatically denied a statement published by the Sioux City (Ia.) Journal to the effect that the Gentry Brothers shows have been absorbed by the circus trust.

Frank Gentry and Lon B. Williams left Chicago Wednesday night for the west on a mission of much importance to the Gentry Brothers shows.

JAMES A. CURRAN BACK FROM VISIT TO LAKES.

James A. Curran returned from a jaunt on the Great Lakes, accompanied by his daughter, and arrived in Chicago Wednesday morning, leaving for Denver Saturday. He declared that his vacation had greatly benefited him, and his personal appearance corroborated the statement as he looked the picture of health.

TWO BILLS' BOSS PAYS BILL WITH A KICK.

Saginaw, Mich., July 25.—In lieu of $4.00 which he claimed was coming to him for carrying water for the Two Bills' show here on Friday, Albert Shane was given a kick by Boss Irish. Shane had Irish arrested before the show got out of town and the boss had to give up the $4.00 and the costs of a court proceeding.

The Two Bills' engagement here was a great big success. Col. Cody had as his guests at the afternoon performance the little folks from St. Vincent's Orphans' Home and the Home of the Friendless.

SHUBERT COMPANY INCREASES CAPITAL STOCK

New York, July 25.—The Shubert Theatrical Company of New York recently filed with the secretary of state a notice that by unanimous consent of its stockholders it had increased its capital stock from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000.
